Annual Craft Show

by Julie Magee

Mark Your Calendars!

The 2012 Dunkerton Craft Show will be held on Saturday, October 20th from 9 am to 2 pm at the school. The admission is one dollar at the door. There will be over 60 vendors from all over Iowa participating in this year's sale! This is a great opportunity to find that one of kind gift for the holidays! As always, there are many handcrafted items to choose from to make your house a home. Crafters will be located in the central gymnasium and the commons area.

Along with this once a year opportunity to shop over 60 vendors, right in your own backyard, the Craft Sale offers homemade soups and pies! These items, along with pizza and other sides are available in the commons for lunch. New this year, we will be selling whole pies and quarts of soup for take home throughout the day. This will be while supplies last, but items may be paid for and stored in our kitchen while you shop.

All profit from the sale will fund the next Four Year Trip in 2015. Our then 9-12 graders will visit Chicago to experience the culture of a major city, while learning from world-class museums and historical sites.

Come and help invest in our students' education by enjoying some pie and shopping!

Blue Zones

by Jessica Crouch

Did you find clarity in your purpose last time? Through the handful of bible studies I attend at the moment, I feel called to serve – now I start the discovery process of how to do that. This week I want to focus on the third healthy habit from the Power 9™: move naturally, know your purpose, down shift, 80% rule, plant slant, wine at 5, family first, belong, right tribe.

According to Blue Zones Project, stress leads to chronic inflammation, which is associated with every major age-related disease. Although everyone experiences stress, the world's longest-lived people have routines to shed that stress. Okinawans take a few moments each day to remember their ancestors, Adventists pray, Ikarians take a nap and Sardinians do happy hour.

We could have a lot of fun reducing our stress this week! In addition to improving your physical and emotional health by finding a stress-relief strategy that works for you, also consider these anti-inflammatory tips from Dr. Stephen Chaney: no smoking, weight management, exercise, balanced blood sugar, minimal fats, controlled blood pressure, low glycemic foods, antioxidants, omega-3 fatty acids, resveratrol. I would add alfalfa and vitamin B – which also helps with stress. Food for thought: many of these nutritional suggestions for inflammation reduce the stress on our body SEE ZONES/Page 5

Boy Scouts Help Feed Hungry with "Scouting for Food" Program

Submitted

With winter coming up and the holidays just around the corner, there are many people in need! Help the Boy Scouts of America raise food for the North East Iowa Food Bank and other local food banks in the area. Scouting for Food bags will be dropped off throughout your neighborhood on the weekend of October 13th. Fill them with any non-perishable items you wish to donate, and Boy Scouts in your area will be back to pick them up to take to the food bank during the weekend of October 20th. If for some reason you do not get a bag, but still wish to donate, please deliver food items to the Winnebago Council Boy Scouts of America at 2929 Airport Boulevard in Waterloo, or your local food bank.

LIBRARY NEWS

by Michele Wheeler
Storytime @ Your Library

Join us on Wed., October

24, for a fun time of stories at the library. We will have storytime at 9:30 a.m. on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month.

As the evenings are growing colder - it's a good time to curl up with a great book. New books are added weekly. Stop by and see what's new on our shelves.

By Bruce Jefferson

“Grave News” at the Dunkerton Public Library

Old cemeteries have lots of interesting history. For example, the following Five Rules for Men to Follow for a Happy Life is on Russell J. Larson's tombstone in Logan, Utah:

1) It's important to have a woman who helps at home, cooks from time to time, cleans up, and has a job.

2) It's important to have a woman who can make you laugh.

3) It's important to have a woman who you can trust, and doesn't lie to you.

4) Its important to have a woman who is good in bed, and likes to be with you.

5) It's very, very important that these four women do not know each other, or you could end up dead like me.

To learn more about our local cemeteries history and preservation, Mike Magee, president of the Iowa State Association for the Preservation of Iowa Cemeteries will be speaking and answering questions Saturday, October 27 from 10 - 12 noon at the Dunkerton Public Library. He will focus on rural cemetery preservation and research in Black Hawk County.

A Matter of Balance

Covenant Cancer Treatment Center Offers A Matter of Balance Program to Help People Manage Balance Issues

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – October 5, 2012 – Covenant Cancer Treatment Center is offering A Matter of Balance, a class for people trying to manage balance issues and prevent falls. A Matter of Balance includes eight two-hour sessions for a small group led by a trained facilitator. The classes will be held at Covenant Cancer Treatment Center for eight weeks starting Monday, October 22 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Many people with various health issues experience fear of falling and restrict their activities. A Matter of Balance: Managing Concerns about Falls emphasizes practical strategies to reduce this fear and increase activity levels. Participants learn to view falls and fear of falling as controllable; set realistic goals to increase activity; change their environment to reduce fall risk factors; and exercise to increase strength and balance.

The program was developed at the Roybal Center at Boston University, and has been nationally recognized. For more information or to register call 319.272.1755.

Scambusters

By Scambuster Keith
Issue #512 October 3, 2012
LinkedIn and PayPal Scam Alerts

This is a busy time for new variations of old scams and we have a couple for you in this week's Snippets issue, starting off with a sneaky new PayPal scam.

We've warned about bogus PayPal messages in several previous issues.

<http://clicks.aweber.com/y/ct/?l=OtaeW&m=J5e10wwoBGtWfo&b=U3w1noBhsZzYotSWTeO5iA>
http://clicks.aweber.com/y/ct/?l=OtaeW&m=J5e10wwoBGtWfo&b=UaX_4MaRKzqj.BZiNJeEQ

In the latest trick, the crooks try to beat your natural skepticism by shocking you into clicking a link.

The message, received by one of the Scambusters team, appears to be from PayPal acknowledging a transfer of a big sum of money — in this case, more than $24,000.

That's enough to make your heart skip a beat. But hang on, says the message, because it's your first big money transfer so PayPal is holding it until you confirm the payment. There's the trap! You're invited to click an "accept/decline" link. If you do, you'll be connected to a hijacked website that downloads a virus onto your PC in the blink of an eye. Poor English usage gives the game away. For instance, the message includes the following statement:

"We congratulate you with your first PayPal money transfer. But we have hold it for the moment because the amount is over the security borders of our rules."

Also, fortunately, most Internet security programs will block the malware attempt — provided they're up to date.

Even so, this PayPal scam attempt emphasizes the fact that you should never click on links in this kind of message. Instead, go to PayPal.com and check your account there.

LinkedIn Scam
Phishing was the name of the game in the latest scam to hit members of the business social networking site LinkedIn.

Letter to the editor

10/8/2012

Dear fellow citizens,

As you know, Election Day is coming on Tuesday, November 6th. I want to encourage everyone to fulfill your civil responsibility and take the time and effort to learn about the candidates and then cast an informed vote. We cannot remain a free people if we don't exercise our right to an informed vote.

In the spirit of keeping everyone informed, I want to remind you that both Senator Brian Schoenjahn and Representative Bill Heckroth have failed to fight for the rights of their constituents to vote on the issue of same sex marriage. Both of these men have played the party line and refused to take a moral stand that would allow us, the citizens of Iowa, to vote on an amendment to the Constitution that would define marriage as the union of one man and one woman only. I have communicated with these men, pleading with them to allow the issue to come before the people, and since they have forgotten for whom they work, it is time to fire them.

I have communicated with the campaign people of both Sandy Salmon and Elliot Henderson, and both candidates have promised that they will fight for our rights to make our own decision on this critical issue.

I also remind you to vote "NO" on the issue of retaining Judge Wiggins, who overstepped his legal responsibilities by forcing same-sex marriage upon us. He, as well as the remaining judges who participated in this travesty, must be fired.

Rest assured, I have no real love or deep commitment to either party. In my mind, this is not a partisan issue. My concern is about doing what is right and decent. Same sex marriage is morally perverted and it is a tragedy for all families. It must be stopped.

Sincerely,
Rev. Tommy Rucker

Scams

Messages from what seemed to be a performance-rating website, supposedly on behalf of one of the victim's "connections," invited them to give an assessment of this person's professional skills.

To make the message seem more authentic, it included a photo of and quote from Apple founder Steve Jobs.

Seems reasonable enough, no? But once the testimonial was written, recipients were then asked for their LinkedIn sign-on details.

As well as giving away this confidential information, victims who did this had their LinkedIn accounts hijacked and the same message was then sent out to all their contacts. A clever way, indeed, of harvesting thousands of login details and passwords.

The site that initiated this scam has now been taken down but the incident reinforces the need to protect your sign-on details and, as we constantly warn, use a different password for each important site you use.

If you already fell for this trick, change your LinkedIn password now.
